Campus Cat Network Volunteers Needed

The Campus Cat Network at UCLA is involved in all phases of caring for feral cats on campus. Volunteers are needed for feeding and fostering for adoption. Feeding involves working with other staff volunteers at an assigned on-campus site to ensure that dry food and water are replenished. Volunteers rotate shifts, so time commitment is minimal, having to replenish food and water once every two weeks. To get involved, email the Volunteer Coordinator and proud UCLA retiree, Dennis Lyday at dlyday@ucla.edu.

2019 UCLA Safety Awareness Campaign: Protect Your Back

Think Before you Lift

Back Injuries consistently rank as one of the top three injuries that occur across the UCLA campus. They account for approximately 20% of all injuries reported at UCLA. Environment, Health and Safety along with Insurance and Risk Management and Cultural Arts and Recreation are collaborating on a Safety Awareness Campaign, “PROTECT YOUR BACK.” The campaign will launch on June 4, 2019 and last through the end of July. Employees will be educated about the dangers of improper lifting and promote the four vital lifting principles:

- Stagger your stance.
- Keep it close. Keep the curves.
- Turn with your feet.
- Build a bridge.

Arrange for hands on training for your department by contacting UCLA Recreation’s FITWELL Services at: Fitwell Back Safety Training
